Brown Holds Chicago Varsity to Five Hits

Young Slabster Pitches Remarkable Ball for St. Louis and Local Team Triumphs in Twelve Inning Battle—Maroon Squad Plays Remarkable Ball in Field—Fans Pleased With One of Greatest Exhibitions Witnessed at Moiliili in Years

The St. Louis Browns started and pleased a throng of "dyed-in-the-wool" baseball fans Saturday afternoon at Moiliili Field when they staged a rally in the last of the twelfth inning, and defeated the strong University of Chicago team by a score of 7 to 6.

Now St. Louis Browns may sound like an error in name, but it will have to go just the same as Mr. Francis Brown was very much in evidence and it really was a Brown game throughout. Inasmuch as the Cleveland team was Naps, it shouldn't be too far-fetched to insert the Browns section in the code of Saturday's heartbreaker.

Many of the ardent rooters wandered off rather early to the park to watch the Maroons play the national game expecting to see a victory for the visitors, and those same fans and gamblers had just cause to think the same for an inning and a half, but no more, and our local citizens were treated to a real ball game with a capital R. Mr. Brown—may his tribe increase—was the big factor in the winning of the game. For twelve innings he was working his curves and in that length of time the Chicago boys could gather but five hits. This is considerable pitching in any league, and Brown was rewarded time and again, with a hand from the spectators.

Sensational Fielding.

One of the ex-fighters around San Francisco used to say: "Class counts all the way, boys," and this statement goes for the overtime game of Saturday. From beginning to end there were enough sensations to go around in ten games, and throws and catches of class were as common as snow-balls in Greenland. There were a few errors mixed up in the affair, and these same slips counted, which made the game even up on many occasions. The features of the game were the running catch by Lang Akana, the wonderful pickup by Catron, and the fast base-running of Rudolph, the little second sacker of the Maroons. Brown's pitching, of course, was the big feature of the matinee.

Brown opened the first stanza by hitting Catron; Catron singled and Rudolph doubled; Gray and Page filed to Lang Akana, the last catch being a wonderful stop, and then he threw to Swan to catch the runner, Swan erred and when the inning was over the visitors had collected a trio of runs. St. Louis went out in order. Page, who was on the hilltop for the varsity, had opened the game auspiciously, but after the Maroons had been retired in the second, the locals began things. The two Akana's opened with singles and Nye's hit, and were served by the Maroon manager evened up the score.

In the third stanza Rudolph walked and went to the third station when "Dolly" Gray singled and scored when Page laid down a bunt to first. Kixmiller brought the second run across the rubber when he drove a pretty single down the third base line. Chicago held the lead for four innings and Page was pitching wonderful ball in this period, only 12 batters faced him. Then Lang Akana came up. The Chinaman with the fire cracker yelled: "Hit 'er Lang," and Lang hit 'er far out into the right pasture. Rudolph made a great play on Albert Akana, robbing him of a hit. Then Nye perforated the ozone, as they say in the classics, and with two out it looked like no score for the locals. Swan ambled to the plate and drove one of Page's shots to the left garden, and Lang scored. Then Page hammered the ball into Schuman's ribs and started to fan Brown out. But Brown, who played a Frank Merriwell game all the way through, cased a few wrinkles around the brow of Mr. Page by hitting the ball far into Catronville, and two runs came in. Brown stopped at third on the banner hit of the day.

The visitors garnered one run in the eighth, and everything was even again. In the tenth inning Schuman singled and Brown went out McConnell to Des Jardien.

"Doc" Peden Stars. Thereupon Chillingworth hit a fast ball that should have gone for a triple and the game would have ended there but Catron made a brilliant run and scooped the ball with one hand and the rally ended. Chicago passed in the eleventh and twelfth, and two men were out in the St. Louis half. Enter Mr. Brown once more with the laurel wreath. He singled sharply through the infield, Chillingworth hit a hard one to center but Catron held Brown at the middle station. Then Doctor James Peden went after a sprig of laurel by hammering a hard one to center, and Brown raced for home. Catron, who had been throwing perfectly throughout the affair, made a wonderful peg to Page at the plate, and runner and ball reached the rubber at the same time. Brown jumped up, dusted off his uniform; the umpire held his hands down toward the plate, the crowd cheered, and Brown once more received the benefit of whatever calcium there was around the park.

PALAMA PLAYERS WIN FINAL GAME OF MAUI SERIES

Palama basketball girls demonstrated their superiority over the Maui six Saturday evening on the Palama floor when they won the final game of the series from the visitors by a score of 41 to 15. Both teams used their best lineups and from the beginning of the match until the whistle sounded to close the first half the game was the best played in the series. Time and again the visitors would threaten to top the score at the end of the first period, and their basket work and teamwork was sensational, but the stars of the locals played carefully and finished in the lead by the score of 15 to 13.

In the second period the locals worked like a machine and their teamwork was a big factor in scoring the victory. In this half the visitors were held safe all the way and Maui was unable to throw a single basket from the field. After the game the visitors were guests at a dance in the gymnasium.

The lineups of the teams were:
Palama—Forwards, Mabel Titcomb, Lizzie Janua; guards, Lillian Bart, Mary Lohan; centers, Bernice Lane, Jennie Stewart.

Waikuku—Forwards, Mary Hoffman, Ella Bal, Gladys Melnecke; guards, Jennie Kahaleki, Tweet Robinson, Alice Walker; centers, Louise Robinson, Ella Bal.

PORTUGUESE WIN BOOTFEST.

An army of jugglers congregated yesterday afternoon at Athletic park with the intention of playing a baseball game. Their intentions were good. They had an umpire, a collection of bats, gloves and uniforms, but these were the only things that reminded one of a baseball game. The Portuguese Booters defeated the Chinese Jugglers by the score of 11 to 7. W. Shakespeare would have said that "Comedy of Errors," and there was certainly enough juggling to last through the season. Score:

"THEY PLAY TODAY"

The following group picture was taken at Athletic park which will show the Chicago baseball players with the exception of Des Jardien. The big pitcher at that time had a very important engagement with a resident of this city, hence was excused by Manager Page. The Chicago team is meeting the strong Chinese squad at Moiliili field this afternoon. The players from left to right are: Catron, McConnell, George, Hart, Cavin, Gray, Weidemann, Cole, Rudolph, Kixmiller and Page.

HAWAIIANS MAKE TRIO OF HOMERS IN MEIJI BATTLE

Pitcher Noa of the Hawaii baseball club was mighty stingy with his hits yesterday afternoon and the Meijis finished the opening game at Athletic Park second best. In addition to the moundwork of their star the locals had their batting clothes on, and contributed to the occasion by hammering three home runs on Ando, who did the twirling for the visitors. Brito, Peterson and Amoy all had circuit clouts to their credit. Peterson also added a triple for good measure.

Meiji scored in the opening inning on a hit by Nakagawa and an error, and held the lead until the third when Peterson lifted the sphere over the left field fence. Neither side scored again until the sixth when Apau was safe on an error and Brito made the second homer of the day. Amoy was up next, and duplicated Brito's feat by lining another four sacker, which is quite a feat for one inning. They scored again in the eighth and singles by Noa, Desha and Apau and a triple by Peterson netted another trio to the total in the ninth. The visitors staged a two run rally in the ninth on a duo of hits. Nakagawa was the star of the day for the Meijis while Ikeda at third was erratic throughout the game, making a trio of errors during the affair. Mahaulu robbed Ohara of a double when he threw the visiting first baseman out after a sensational stop.

FILIPINOS VS. MEIJIS.

The attraction at Athletic park this afternoon will be the contest between the newly organized Filipino team and the Meijis. The Filipinos have been working out all week, and the players believe that they will give the visitors a good game. The line-up of the Meijis will be the same as that of Saturday. The Filipino squad will have Batumbalal, c; Narcial, 2b; Planas, 3b; Reyes, 1b; A. Ortiz, p; Tibony, cf; C. Ortiz, lf; A. Cruz, rf. The game will be called at 3:30.

Jimmy Clabby Arrives on Ventura; Will Box Les D'arcy in Sydney

Great Middleweight Fighter Arrives in Honolulu on Way to Sydney to Box Australian Champion—Clabby Will Have Five Bouts While He Remains in Australia for Promoter Baker—Middleweight Believes Gibbons Will Be Victor in His Bout With Packey McFarland at Brighton This Month

Jimmy Clabby, one of the greatest middleweights in the ring, accompanied by Trainer McQueen, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the steamer Ventura en route to Sydney, Australia, where the crack boxer will fight five bouts for R. L. ("Snowy") Baker. Clabby will meet Darcy, the great middleweight, of the Antipodes, in the first fight. Darcy is the star performer of Australia and the most popular ring artist in that country. He has already made a name for himself by defeating Jeff Smith and Eddie McGorty in easy fashion. Clabby expects to have a hard battle with the Australian, and according to fans throughout the world this battle should draw a larger crowd than any in the history of the game in that country.

Clabby's last fight was with Farmer, at Oshkosh, Wis., which was won in 10 rounds. The visitor has many victories to his credit, and his decision over Murray, Petrosky and Chip have placed him on a par with Mike Gibbons in the middleweight section. During his stay in Australia Clabby will be matched with Eddie McGorty and Billy Murray, and believes that he will win these two bouts as he has defeated both men before. This is Clabby's fifth trip to Australia and it is just like going home to him. He fought Dave Smith three times in Sydney, and won a decision from Hugh Mehegan in 20 rounds at the same place.

Clabby Boxed Here.

Clabby is very much attracted to Honolulu as he has been here many times before. On September 24, 1910, Clabby fought a six-round exhibition with Jimmy Bronson, which will be remembered by the fight fans of this vicinity.

"I would like to see boxing in Honolulu, and I would like to see it come back in California. The ten-round bouts to a decision would be a good thing for the sport on the coast, and I believe that it will not be long until the people of San Francisco and California adopt it," said Clabby this morning.

When asked as to who he thought would win the Gibbons-McFarland match in New York Saturday, he said: "Take Mike Gibbons for your end. He's a mighty clever boy, and for 10 rounds is awfully hard to beat. I say Packey in Chicago recently, and he looks overweight. He hasn't boxed much in the past year or so, and although he is a clever man I believe that Mike will have the best of the bout all the way through."

Gibbons will be asked to come to Australia to meet the winner of the Clabby-Darcy bout to decide the middleweight championship once and for all. Clabby states that he would like to win the middleweight championship or else retire from the ring. He is a wise boy and has accumulated quite a heap of the world's goods for a young man of 25. Mrs. R. L. Baker, wife of the promoter, who has been visiting friends on the coast, was also a passenger on the Ventura.

schedule of all this week, and if Robinson's men can hold their own will have a much better chance to grab the pennant.

DETROIT TIGERS WIN TWO GAMES AT RICKEYVILLE

The Detroit Tigers made a week-end rally by defeating the St. Louis Browns in yesterday's double-header, and maintain a good position in the flag race. Boston did not play, consequently the Jungeaters gained one full game on the Red Sox. All of the American League teams will play double-headers today and Boston, Detroit and Chicago will all play on their own fields. Boston will meet Donovan's Yanks in a three-game series, and the ex-Tiger is bound to make things interesting for Carrigan. The St. Louis Browns will meet the Tigers in the double matinee, and the Tigers will then go to Chicago for a lone game while the Red Sox are playing Philadelphia once more. Thursday and Friday Detroit will be at Cleveland with the Athletics still at the Hub. Boston will entertain the White Sox in the final struggles of the week while the Tigers are meeting New York in the metropolis. Boston looks to have the edge with a full week at home, but the Tigers are always dangerous on a road trip.

In the National League race this week the Boston Braves will meet New York, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and Chicago in order. The Braves will be on the road for the entire week. Stallings' crew should make a gain while the Phillies and Dodgers are playing as the two leaders will clash in three games today and tomorrow. Philadelphia will be at home with three games with the Giants while the Dodgers are playing the Braves. The week will close with Boston at Chicago, Brooklyn at St. Louis and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh. Brooklyn has the hardest

Novice Pays Fortune For Ten Round Bout

Marshall Gives McFarland and Gibbons $32,500 for No Decision Match at Brighton Beach Saturday, September 11—Promoter Never Saw a Prize Fight—Packey's Absence from Game for Two Years May Make Gibbons Strong Favorite

By OWEN MERRICK.

William C. Marshall is not generally known in sport circles throughout the country. At least he wasn't up to about a month ago, but Marshall is a different sort from what we have been hearing of, and is what one would call a "real sport." To begin with, "Did you ever hear of a man who never saw a boxing contest or never bet on one in his life gamble $40,000 on a boxing contest?" Marshall did, and wagered it on a 10-round no-decision contest. Marshall hasn't any more home than a rabbit. He just wanders around the country contracting, and he happened to fall into the fight game.

"Packey" McFarland and Mike Gibbons, the two cleverest men in the added ring today, were at odds on the match game, and fight fans were anxious to see the two boxers mix. Marshall overheard some remarks one day, and then wondered why, if everybody wanted to see the match, some one didn't stage it. No promoter could be found who looked easy enough to pay the mitt artists their price for a 10-round no-decision contest. Marshall, the wanderer, opined that he would stake a little of his wealth on the proposition and went forth to the lair of the boxers. The stock-yard wonder only wanted $17,500 for his few minutes' work, while Mike Gibbons figured that he would stay around for awhile for $15,000.

Marshall says it's a gamble. If he fills the motordrome at Brighton Beach Saturday evening, September 11, he will win something more than the initial investment of 40,000 cold simoleons. He claims that he is an opportunist, and has confidence that the public will turn out en masse to cheer their favorite in the 10-round go. Marshall has never had anything to do with the fight game, and is just taking a flier. He punched cattle in the West for awhile, has been occupied at contracting and other occupations too numerous to mention. They say he is game, and his adventure will surely give the fans the best 10-round battle that has been staged in any ring in years.

There will hardly be a favorite in the contest to be staged at Brighton for many good and sufficient reasons. McFarland is popular with the fight fans and has been for years, and will naturally have many of his old-time friends pulling for him. On the other hand the Chicago boy has not had a real fight in nearly two years, and it may be that he will not be able to make the weight and hold the same ring tactics that have made him famous. The stockyards boy has coolies of money, and has not been forced to battle for the purses handed out by our present day promoters, but has kept in condition so far as health goes. Can "Packey" Come Back?

When "Packey" steps into the ring at Brighton on the evening of the 11th, he will be carrying more weight than he has in the past. There was a time when the Chicago boy could step into the ring at 155 pounds, but never again. When the boys weigh in the night of the contest it is hardly possible that either will be under 147 pounds, the stipulated weight. Can McFarland remain out of the game for nearly two years and then go in and make a fast fight with the speedy Gibbons? That remains to be seen, but there are stories even in "Packey's" camp that he will not be the big favorite that was expected when the articles were signed for the match.

Mike Gibbons has a record worthy of note in 10-round battles, and his defeat of the clever Bob McAllister and the rugged Clabby will be taken into consideration when the time comes to pick the winner. This bout, strange to say, will not be for any championship, but merely will decide which is the better man. It is not thought that either man will be able to make the welterweight mark in the present month. Had the bout taken place a year ago "Packey" would be the logical favorite, but at the present time it looks like the St. Paul boy ought to have the edge on the stock-yard batter.

"Packey" Experience. "Packey" has had more ring experience than his opponent, having started his real fighting in 1904, while Mike did not begin his ring career until four years later. Gibbons will have the advantage in that he has been fighting more welterweights than "Packey," and should be as strong if not stronger at the weight. The battle should be fast and furious from the start, and the spectators are sure to witness a wonderful exhibition of athletics, one worth going many miles to see, but a 10-round affair has never been satisfactory, and the fact that there will be no decision will rob the match of great interest. Gibbons is three months older than "Packey," both being in their twenty-seventh year, and Mike claims that his age will be a factor in winning the battle.

BASEBALL BOOMING AT SCHOFIELD; TEAMS PLAYING FAST GAMES NOW

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

St. Louis 9, 4th Cavalry 2.
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Sept. 6.—In their second visit to Schofield Barracks this season the team from the St. Louis College of Honolulu was victorious, downing the 4th Cavalry 9 to 2 on Sunday afternoon.

The cavalry failed to find a pitcher that could deliver the goods, and in trying out the various members of their pitching staff were very ungenerous with their support. All were given a try except Hornung, who is acknowledged to be one of the best twirlers at Schofield. Hornung has been worked over and on account of a sore arm was unable to come to his team's rescue. To be was the first to go to the mound, and lasted not quite two innings, in which time the visitors gathered in three hits and three runs. Coten finished this inning and started the third. No hits were made off him, but he hit one batter and made three wild pitches in a very short space of time, so that his wildness threatened to bankrupt the local team. Hall relieved him and held the visitors scoreless until the last two innings.

Jansen and Joy were in the box for the St. Louis team and did some excellent work. Although the local team was unable to get in their hits at the crucial moments and were left on the bases.
